"A deep red wine with purple tinges, super lifted fruit-driven aromas and a beautiful palate that has excellent fruit drive and clarity with a subtle integration of oak and tannins".

Winestate Magazine, March/April 2017

90 points

"Juicy and vivid, with black tea accents to the core of spiced plum, black licorice and gunpowder flavours. Notes of smoke and spice linger on the dense finish. Grenache, Shiraz, Mataro. Drink now through 2029."

MaryAnn Worobiec, Wine Spectator Magazine, April 2017

Ranked #1 of 18 - 2016 SA Grenache Blends

91 points

"Deep, youthful purple/red hue. The bouquet likewise fresh and intense, berries, banana and pepper, a hint of jam; bright and young, tasting; rich and full, soft and rounded, but also very youthful, bright and a touch callow. Some firmness.

Juicy, straightforward and delicious. And has a future."

"A fresh gamey grenache-driven nose; smells spicy and licoricey. Velvety in the mouth with a complexity of sweet briary fruit, pepper and wild ferment".

Winestate Magazine, July/August 2017

Appealed Strongly to Forrester. "Restrained brambly, briary aromatics," he wrote. "A wonderful velvety palate. Rich and concentrated with redcurrant, blackberry and dark plum flavours. Good weight, seamless texture, long." I, too, liked the rich dark berry fruit, although Paterson and I found the tannins rather firmer. A couple of years in the bottle will see this wine soften and fill out further.

Panel Tasting - Written by Nick Bulleid, Gourmet Traveller Wine, August/Sept 2017

"Tasted at the Winestate "Wine of the Year" tasting: Old vine (50-years-plus) grapes are processed in open fermenters, basket pressed and matured in old oak barrels, making this wine a soft, fruit-driven wine, with raspberry and spice flavours. It has a sinewy structure and a lovely, long, lingering finish. An Elegant Wine!"
