2009 KALLESKE EDUARD SHIRAZ

'GRAND' Gold Medal - Best Wine of Show MUNDUS VINI BioFach 2012

International Organic Wine Award, Germany

Kalleske did exceptionally well at the 2012 International Organic Wine Awards 'Mundus VINI Biofach' in Germany picking up the top 2 wines of the show for our Johann Georg Shiraz and Eduard Shiraz. With over 600 Entries only 8 wines were awarded Grand Gold Medals, 2 of which were received by Kalleske.

"Dark purple-red; made from three vineyard blocks planted between 1905 and '60; open-fermented and taken to new and used French and American oak hogsheads to conclude its fermentation; an utterly seductive blend of black fruits and licorice, fruitcake, dark chocolate and vanilla, quality tannins present from start to finish. Quite a wine".

"You know you are in for a treat when you crack the top off a Barossa Valley wine and see that inky dark shiraz glug glug (I defy anyone to tell me they don't like that sound) out of the neck. This is such an inviting and refined drop, full-bodied taste. It's intriguing, intense and lingering. This is a serious, special-occasion wine, thanks mainly to the $85 pricetag but it is oh, so worth it".

Cameron Best, Geelong Advertiser, December 2011

"Ripe, dusty, integrated tannins add good structure to this complex wine. Well balanced with great texture and multiple layers, this dense Shiraz is completed by a lengthy finish"

This wine is 100% Organic / Biodynamic as certified by Australian Certified Organic.
