2009 KALLESKE GREENOCK SHIRAZ

Gold Medal

*Japan International Wine Challenge 2011
August 2011*

93 Points

"This wine has been an impressive performer since its debut with the 2002 vintage. This 2009 release is all about softness. Soft, sweet, deliciously dark fruit. Blackberries and plums and coal, a spot of spicy raspberry giving the wine brightness. You'd almost pick it as a shiraz grenache blend. Tannin is gentle, the fruit sweet but not jammy or raisiny. Aftertaste is earthen. It's a fine wine, for early-ish drinking".

Campbell Mattinson, the Wine Front, June 2011

"...this has plenty of blackberry and plum fruit, toasty vanilla and other baking spices, raspberry and dark chocolate. The palate's smoothly layered up in waves of fine, supple tannins, building blackberry and plum-fruit flavours through the middle; more savoury spice and bacon fat through the finish. Works for me".

Nick Stock – Good Wine Guide 2012

"deep red-black in colour with a purple hue. The bouquet immediately evokes a serious wine with uplifting and inviting aromas of spice, cherry, briar, cedar and fruit cake"
