

2017 KALLESKE PARALLAX

92 Points

Grenache from 1940 plantings, picked a couple of weeks early, with plenty of whole bunch and about 15 days on skins. And, well, if they were aiming to create a wonderful, interesting, crisp and early-drinking wine of complexity from Barossa Grenache? Yep. They've knocked it out of the park.

Squishy ripe strawberries, spice, green herbs, dried flowers and rhubarb tart. Light bodied, spicy, sappy and fresh, but with juiciness of strawberry – almost like a health drink – grainy gently stalky tannin, freshness, and a gummy and herbal finish of good length. Just lovely. Great drinking here.
