GREENOCK

Since 1853, the Kalleske family have been farming and growing grapes on their family estate at Moppa near the village of Greenock in the North-Western Barossa Valley. After six generations of grape growing, seventh generation family members, Troy and Tony Kalleske established the Kalleske winery producing traditionally handcrafted, sustainable and natural, estate grown wines with a true sense of place.

Greenock is a single vineyard Shiraz, gaining its name from the Greenock block, the most Southerly vineyard on the Kalleske estate, near Greenock. Cuttings for these vines originate from a shiraz vineyard planted on the Kalleske property in the late 1800s. Today, sixth and seventh generation family members, John and Kym Kalleske, meticulously tend the vines in this low yielding vineyard.

Greenock is a full-bodied Shiraz that has been matured in new and seasoned French and American oak barrels ensuring a complex wine that showcases the renowned Greenock region and will reward long term cellaring.
